Reasons teenagers do and don't use drugs

For each of the reasons you have listed for why some teenagers use drugs, can you think of some other ways teenagers could achieve the aims in a different 'drug-free' way? It may help to think about what type of drug-free activities are common among 15-20 year olds.

For example, some teenagers might use drugs to seek thrills. Another way in which this desire could be met is through abseiling.
